Wilkerson faces Black in May 18 run-off

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Tuesday's primary election resulted in a return to office for Mayor Edward Favre; councilman-at-large, James J. "Jimmy" Rutherford; and councilmen Charles C. Scianna (Ward 1), James C. "Jim" Thrifley III (Ward 2) and Thomas "Tom" Farve (Ward 3).

In Ward 4, incumbent John Wilkerson will face Tad Black in the May 18 general election.

Black led the race with 359 votes to Wilkerson's 274.

Supporters of the candidates overflowed onto Court Street from the Bay St. Louis City Hall annex, listening to the returns as they were announced over a public address system from within the building. Favre carried approximately 65 percent of the vote with a total unofficial count of 1,814 compared to challenger Lisa Coward and at 35 percent with 986. Favre stated, "It's the greatest feeling in the world to know means something. We will continue the programs of this administration and keep Bay St. Louis 'A Place Apart.'" Coward commented, "We knew in the beginning we were facing an uphill climb, but we porters and especially my family. My husband was the best campaign manager this side of the Bay bridge."

The first of the unofficial returns came from Ward 3: Farve—314; Philip S. Williams—110; and T.O. Coles—68.

Farve, visually stated by the win stated, "Great. I feel great. I don't have a run-off."

"I thought the people would get behind me and they did. I really appreciate it."

Ward 1 was the next box to be counted, revealing: Scianna—479; and Carleen M. Moran—350.

Off to a good start

Bay recycling program reports 65 percent participation

BY LIZ HAAS

Gulf Coast Recycling, operators of the Bay St. Louis Recycling program, reported 21.3 tons of materials saved from the landfill during the first month of collection.

Curbside recycling has saved the city 182 cubic yards of landfill space in the first month.

Household participation rates were from 50 to 83 percent, with Tuesday's route rating highest, with 75 percent.

"A 65 percent voluntary participation rate speaks volumes about how much Bay St. Louis residents care about our quality of life and the global environment," said Mayor Eddie Favre. "You can't legislate commitment, and our recycling success—without a mandatory ordinance—is phenomenal."

Newspapers contributed the most landfill savings, 49 cubic yards.

"The unequivocal success of the curbside program in Bay St. Louis is rooted in the city council's initial request for a recycling program that would really reach deep into the community," said Penny Penrose, GCR executive director. "This program included training of community volunteers, programs at every school, a series of neighborhood meetings and a door-to-

Bourgeois wants district office at co. Fairgrounds

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock County School District Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois requested a new school district office be located on the county owned Fairgrounds property.

Bourgeois asked Monday on behalf of the school board, that the building be constructed near the central business areas of Waveland and Bay St. Louis. District 3 supervisor Howard Lizania said it was the board's understanding that the office would be built on the grounds of the high school complex because of its central location within the county.

Bourgeois said the district office's present rental location is more convenient for banking purposes and is equal distance between C.B. Murphy and Hancock North Central elementary schools.

She added the high school property would not have room enough for the office since an alternative school building and bus barn is planned for construction on the campus.

She argued the location of the office should be on county owned property since it would be a county owned building.

Williams resigns as Murphy principal

BY LIZ HAAS

The Hancock County School Board approved the resignation of Clementine Williams as principal at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in a Monday meeting.

"I have the opportunity to return to the Pass Christian School District as principal of DeLisle Elementary where I taught for 14 years," said Williams.

Williams taught Chapter I reading and writing at DeLisle Elementary.

"It's been most rewarding working in Hancock County," Williams said, "I have mixed emotions about leaving. Everyone has been so supportive and caring and it's really been wonderful."

Williams has been the principal at Charles B. Murphy Elementary for the past six years. Her resignation is effective June 16.

The board also approved to transfer Denise Wilkerson, assistant principal at Hancock North Central Elementary, to Charles B. Murphy as principal for the 1993-1994 school year.

Darnell Cuevas was approved by the board to fill Wilkerson's position. Cuevas has previously taught at Hancock North Central Elementary and has been an assistant principal in the Picayune School District for the past year.

The board also approved:

Farewell to a friend

SSC Brother bids adieu after 27-year stay in the Bay

BY JANET MCQUEEN

When Brother Aquin Gauthier departs for a new assignment in Baton Rouge, La. in July, he leaves behind a host of friends...a network woven together with St. Stanislaus as the common thread.

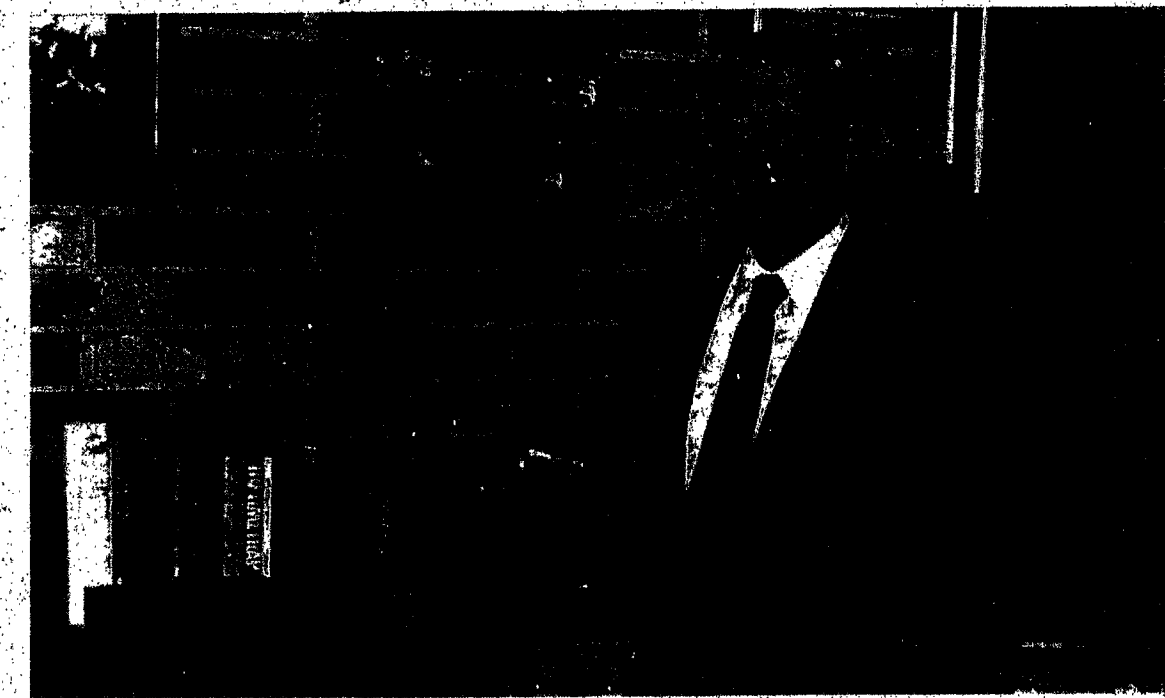

As alumni/public relations/development director since 1970, Brother Aquin is a direct link to the school for its nearly 4,000 living graduates.

In that pivotal role he spearheaded successful fund-raisers which over the years paid for improvements at the 139-year-old institution without ever having to borrow money for construction.

"We always had the money on hand when the time came; and it was my job to get it," said Gauthier.

"In his own way he has had a great influence on the future of the school," said 1945 alumnus materials are sorted into specially designed wooden bins on the truck between pickups. The team will leave notes to residents if they have errors in recycling.

"The main thing we have to leave notes for is about plastic, but it's getting a lot better. People are learning as they go along," said Stanley Holmes, GCR collection route driver.

Materials are taken to GCR's Operations Center in Gulfport for processing and shipment to end-users.

Newspapers are shipped to Southeast Paper Corporation in Dublin, Ga., where old paper is made into newsprint. The metal food and beverage cans are taken to Applewhite, Inc. in Gautier and then shipped to end-users in a variety of locations.

Unbroken, clear, green and brown glass bottles and jars are sorted by color and the glass is taken to Applewhite, Inc. and shipped to a processing facility where the glass is melted down and made into new bottles and jars.

Flattened plastic soft drink bottles and flattened "clear" plastic milk jugs are shipped by Applewhite, Inc. to processing plants where materials are chipped or shredded and then melted down for use in making new plastic products.

Holmes said, "Recycling is good because it cuts back on your garbage, which is the point."

Revenues of recycled materials helps offset part of the cost for the collection program.

"This is our first contract and we hope to have the opportunity to do others," said Penrose.

FROM NOW UNTIL JUNE 15, SUNBURST BANK HAS A RIDICULOUSLY GOOD DEAL FOR BOTH OF US.

HERE'S THE DEAL.

Apply for a Sunburst Home Equity Loan or Line of Credit between now and June 15th, and we'll apply up to a $450 credit against your closing costs.

In most cases, this will make the closing costs a nice, round number — namely, zero. Ask us for complete details.

HERE'S WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU.

With a Sunburst Home Equity Loan or Line of Credit, the interest you pay may be tax-deductible, just like the interest on your mortgage. Your tax advisor can fill you in on all the details.

Right now, interest rates are extremely low, making it a very opportune time to borrow or establish a low rate on a line of credit.

What's more, you can spend the money on anything you wish. You can fix up the house, buy a new car, pay tuition for the kids, or even do something extremely sensible (like paying off old debts with higher interest rates). After all, it's your money.

HERE'S WHAT'S IN IT FOR US.

You pay us interest (extremely low interest).

We make money.

We're happy.

TIMING IS EVERYTHING ON THIS DEAL.

A Sunburst Home Equity Loan or Line of Credit is a good deal any day of the year, but it's an even better deal between now and June 15th (Don't forget our offer to apply up to a $450 credit against your closing costs).

So now is definitely the time to act.

To get the ball rolling, simply stop by your nearest Sunburst Bank and talk to one of our loan officers, or call us toll-free at 1-800-844-SUN-B and we'll send you complete information and an application.

Consult a tax advisor about tax deductibility. Property insurance is required. The borrower is responsible for any additional amount which may not be covered by the $450.00 credit. To receive the credit, you must be approved for and draw a minimum line of $10,000. On Home Equity Lines, your interest rate is variable and is based on an index. The index is the highest prime rate published in the Wall Street Journal's "Money Rates." Your interest is 1.5% above this index. The maximum APR that can apply is 6.0% above the initial rate offered you. All loans subject to credit approval.

Election

I," Scianna commented. "I want to thank all the people who came out to vote, and the people who helped me get re-elected. I want to tell the people of Bay St. Louis I'm ready to go back to work for them. As I have said, I am dedicated to the people of Bay St. Louis."

Ward 2 results confirmed the next incumbent's return: Thriffley — 473; Linda Lala Beaurgard — 138.

Thriffley said he was "thrilled" with the outcome. He acknowledged thanks to his wife, Jean Ann, for all her work in his behalf and stated, "We plan to maintain, improve and protect the quality of life in Bay St. Louis."

Ward 4 returns were the latest in arriving.

At approximately 9:30 p.m. silence fell as everyone waited for the final call.

Ward 4 results revealed the one resulting run-off: Black — 359; Wilkerson — 274; Nuncy Perniciaro — 179; and Eloise Favre — 16.

Concerning Ward 4 results Black said, "I feel good about the results. I have a lot of hard work to do before the May 18 run-off.

"I think it was a good clean race and all I can do is ask the people to come back out on May 18 and vote."

Wilkerson stated, "I thank the people for their vote. I will just have to get out and work harder than I did before...but I'll be in there shootin'."

With these returns came the conclusion for the mayoral and councilman-at-large campaigns.

Results were:

Mayor's race: Ward 1, Favre — 466, Cowand — 365; Ward 2, Favre 442, Cowand — 203; Ward 3, Favre — 321, Cowand — 179; and Ward 4, Favre — 585, Cowand — 239.

Councilman at Large: Ward 1, Rutherford — 417, Drew Boxx — 393; Ward 2, Rutherford — 396, Boxx — 128; Ward 3, Rutherford — 469, Boxx — 338; and Ward 4, Rutherford — 469, Boxx — 338.

Rutherford claimed approximately 60 percent of the city with 1,620 votes, while Boxx took 40 percent with 1,090.

Rutherford exclaimed, "I feel fine! Beautiful! Great!"

STREET TALK

Do you approve of women in combat?

"I'm sure they would be good as Air Force or Navy pilots and aboard ships, but as far as hand-to-hand combat, I'm not sure they would have the physical strength."

Lou Wilkerson
Bay St. Louis

"I'm neutral on that because I don't vote and I don't go along with anything like that. Myself, as a woman, I wouldn't participate in the military for I don't believe in bearing arms."

Linda Milner
Waveland

"No. I don't think they have any business being in combat. They should be home taking care of the family. I don't think war is for anyone, but in particular women."

Susan Necaise
Lakeshore

"I wouldn't want to go, but it's up to the individual."

Shirley Frederick
Waveland

"No. I think if it really comes down to killing someone, I don't think a woman should be put in that position, for it would be more stressful on her than on a man."

Janice Domitz
Diamondhead

"No. Most armies don't do it. I really don't think they should be."

C. Hodges
Diamondhead

"Yes. I was in Saudi Arabia and there were a few women in the Marines. Women do everything else, fly planes and helicopters. They want equal rights. It would only be fair. There are a lot of women who could handle combat."

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

LIONS FOR LADIES

A new Lions Club comes to Diamondhead May 8, 6:30 p.m. when 30 men and women celebrate charter night in the Coral Room of the country club.

Dr. James Shrock will present members of the new club with their official charter. Hancock County Lions Club, who sponsored the formation, will be on hand to congratulate the charter members and their guests.

Local Lions activities include providing eye glasses and hearing aids for the needy, sponsoring boys and girls leadership conferences, sponsoring students in the Mississippi All-State Band, etc. Diamondhead can be proud to have another great service organization benefiting the community.

BOOTH POETRY

Do we have a poet-in-residence in Diamondhead? Congratulations to Dorothy (Mrs. John) Booth, who was notified that her poetry has been accepted for publication in the Summer 1993 Edition of the new Anthology Treasured Poems of America by Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum Inc. Dorothy is also a published member of Southern Poetry Association. Bravo, Ms. Booth!

GARDEN CLUB

Gerri Garberg is planning a beautiful and unusual ceremony for the installation of the new officers on May 19, 11:30 a.m. at the country club. The luncheon will cost $11, tax and grat. included. For reservation call Betty Cutler at 255-9527. Members are reminded to pay $20 dues at this meeting for names to be in the new yearbook.

SPCA

The biggest problem facing this organization concerns the care and feeding of the animals housed at the enclosure at the maintenance yard. This is a day-in, day-out proposition, and they desperately need help!

They are trying to set up some sort of schedule, and while feeding and watering are essential, so is the need for a little attention, human interaction and petting. Also needed are adopters for the puppies and kittens until old enough to be released. To join the society, send $25 (100 percent tax deductible) to Mrs. James Turcotte, 10460 Haleiwa Place, Diamondhead.

LADIES OF ST. VINCENT SOCIETY

Correction on last week's announcement of the cost of the May 12 luncheon ticket is $9. Tickets are available through Chris Sigut at 255-3598. As always the ladies do so much to make this a don't-want-to-miss occasion. Get your tickets, now.

ATTENTION!

The Diamondhead Sewer and Water District will be smoke testing the sewer lines to locate infiltration and illegal drain connections in May.

The district needs to know of house-confined invalids, and any persons suffering from heart and lung diseases. Report this information to 255-5813.

THEY'VE MOVED

Good luck to all those nice folks at Coast Delta Realty in their new location, 5400 Indian Hill Blvd. New building, new colors, but the same great service!

BON APPETIT!

A professional Restaurant Management team will be operating the Diamondhead Yacht Club officially re-opening May 7 and be open seven nights a week for dinner, and lunch Tuesday through Sunday the week of May 11.

The new operators, Patrick Jordan, Sonja Jordan and Chef Ric Aruffo, come to us from Dallas, Texas. Mr. Jordan and Chef Aruffo are graduates of the Culinary Institute of America, (the same school that produced the excellent Chef Bill Vrazel) in Hyde Park, N.Y.

DIAMONDHEAD SENIORS

Don't forget, every Friday, 8:30 a.m., the bus will pick you up at the Diamondhead Dairy Queen (returning there about 1:30 p.m.) for your visit to the Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis. A nice lunch is served.

DIAMONDHEAD ACADEMY

Preregistration ended April 30 with a record number of 96 students enrolled for the 1993-94 school year. There is still space in some classes for those who missed the preregistration deadline.

Stanford Achievement Test scores have just been received. The fact that they are almost all above the National Average bears witness to the fact that we have some bright children who are learning from excellent teachers.

DIAMONDHEAD YOUTH

Before you know it, all of our kids will be out of school and looking for things to do for the summer, so enter Diamondhead Youth Organization with all of those great activities they have planned.

Their next meeting is May 10, 7 p.m. at the community center. Dues are $10 a year.

Come on out this Saturday, May 8 from 10 a.m. 'til to their St. Jude Bike-a-Thon/Carnival at the St. Thomas Episcopal Church. Call Carla Brigandi at 255-3846 for sponsorship information.

Mark your calendars for the DYO adult dance at the community center featuring File Gumbo on May 15. Call Vickie Marks at 255-1399 for tickets.

Don't forget to sign up for swimming lessons and swim team with Barbara Gibbons at 255-7149. Check your Cable TV bill board for baseball teams schedules, and go join the crowd at the E. Rec. field for some of those moms' concession burgers and stuff.

New Lions chapter to be chartered Saturday

The donation of a nice-sized American flag on a pole for the field would be greatly appreciated.

Kenny honored in memorial service

Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol troopers and agents with the Bureau of Narcotics who have died in the line of duty will be remembered at a special ceremony on Friday, May 14.

The 10 a.m. event, at the Department of Public Safety headquarters building in Jackson, observes National Peace Officers' Memorial Day.

Also at 2 p.m. on Saturday, May 15, simultaneous wreath laying ceremonies will be held at the individual grave sites throughout Mississippi where the fallen officers are buried. Families of the deceased officers and the public are invited to both ceremonies.

Farewell

and current president of the SSC Alumni Association Earle Christenberry of New Orleans. "He led the way in alumni relations, and as a result of his endeavors, the alumni association is better structured and more active than it has ever been."

Building projects completed during his tenure include construction of a new school building following Hurricane Camille in 1969; renovation of the dining hall and band hall; a new gym in 1979; addition of several classrooms in 1991.

Currently underway is Endowment for Excellence, a $3 million campaign which is past the halfway mark in donations and pledges.

So, just how has he been able to encourage people to open their wallets so freely?

"I refer to it as 'friend-raising,' rather than fund-raising," he said. "If the school has no friends, it has no funds."

And friends he has, said Christenberry. "His friends number in the thousands. He has an encyclopedic mind when it comes to (SSC) graduates...who married who...where they live...what they do..."

The ties to St. Stanislaus are strong, particularly among the boarding students who spent their teenage years there.

"I was a boarder from 1941-47," said J. T. LaNasa of New Orleans, who served as alumni president for nine years.

"The concept that SSC is a 'family' was promoted by Brother Aquin. In reflecting on my years there...that is what it was like, to live together 24-hours a day."

St. Stanislaus (603 students) is the only boarding school among the schools owned and operated by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, including Brother Martin of New Orleans (1,000 students) and Catholic High (700 students) in Baton Rouge.

Gauthier will assume the position of Catholic High director of development late this summer.

He grew up in Baton Rouge and will be living three blocks from his family's home. But it's hard to leave a place you've come to love. "I leave with mixed feelings," he allowed, "as with any place I've been before when the time came to leave."

"I love being with people, and I look forward to each new year...setting a goal or challenge. One new wrinkle to work on adds enthusiasm."

Among the goals set and met are a yearly alumni reunion planned by the school and attended by 400-500 people; an alumni golf tournament at Diamondhead; a gourmet dinner completely donated by John "Chappy" Chapman which nets $13-$14,000 for the school; and homecoming festivities for alumni.

He is most proud of the school's annual Hall of Fame induction, which he began in 1972 when Brother Lee Barker was SSC principal.

Careful planning and attention to detail by Brother Aquin and his secretary of 23 years Mary McCarthy ensured success after success.

Other fond memories include 20 years as cheerleader sponsor. "It was a way of keeping up with the pulse of the student body," he said. Former cheerleaders hosted a surprise party in his honor last week, and presented him with a scrapbook containing two decades of mementoes.

"Looking back, I treasure all the friendships I have made."

"The only way I can tolerate his (Brother Aquin's) leaving is knowing he is close to retirement age, and since St. Stanislaus is a retirement place for many Brothers, he will be back," LaNasa joked.

Brother Aquin Gauthier greets long-time friends Aline and Jerry Schoen (Class of 1947) at a 1984 homecoming party at SSC.

Bourgeois

5 supervisor Mike Ladner questioned whether there would be room left at the Fairgrounds property after the approved construction of a soccer field complex.

Bourgeois insisted architect Mike Reeves, currently employed by the board in connection with the construction of a new Child Development Center at the Fairgrounds, stated there is ample room remaining for a district office.

She presented an estimate of 5,700 to 10,000 square feet as space needed for the office, costing $25 per square foot.

Board members said they would consider the matter.

COMMISSIONERS

The board accepted House Bill 1670, the local and private bill authorizing the establishment of an equestrian commission.

Added to the bill's acceptance was a statement emphasizing funding from the state for the operation of the commission, including the creation of show arena and thoroughbred training track in Hancock County.

Also approved were the appointments of the five members of the Hancock County Equestrian Commission.

Those named were Kenny Ladner, one year; Charles A. Russ, Tony Necaise and Pete J. Necaise, three years; and Tommy Koennen, two years. Following the initial appointment each commissioner will be appointed for a four-year term.

PARKS

The board approved low bids on various materials for use in the construction of a concession stand and restrooms at the Kiln baseball park.

Rejected was the one bid received for playground equipment to be used in Pearlington. Park commissioner A.L. Franklin said the bid was $1,300 more than comparable equipment recently purchased for the Lakeshore playground.

District 1 supervisor Robert Peterson questioned the reliability of the company used for the Lakeshore purchase.

"We waited two and a half months for one part," Peterson said, referring to one of the reasons for delays in the Lakeshore park completion.

County purchasing clerk Suzette Beech stated payment could be made only upon receipt of all materials, thereby encouraging accuracy and expediency by the equipment seller.

The board approved the taking of two quotes by Franklin since the estimated cost of the playground equipment was less than $5,000.

Franklin mentioned the need for a truck at McLeod Park.

He said, "The one truck we had for hauling trash broke down. We borrowed one from Sam (Cuevas, road and bridge superintendent) and now that truck is down."

Board members said they plan to purchase a truck from the defunct tri-county Mosquito Control Commission for use by the park.

BOOKKEEPING

The board approved the hiring of privately contracted software maintenance service for the Chancery Clerk's office at $250 per month for up to 40 hours work, and $40 per hour thereafter.

Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise said the expenditure is necessary for as of April 30 the state auditor's office no longer supplies the free service to the county departments.

BONDS

The board set a public hearing on county sponsorship of the proposed issuance of $100 million in industrial revenue bonds for Casino Magic hotel and golf course development.

Board members expressed concern for public misunderstanding concerning the obligation of the bonds.

Board attorney Gerald Gex stated, "Since the public has been correctly informed that the county has no obligation in these bonds, there should be little public interest."

TAX EXEMPTION

County Tax Assessor Eddie Murtagh received approval by the board for acceptance of House Bill 607, making Homestead Exemption filing a one-time necessity.

According to the tax office, 1991 was the last time home owners had to send their renewal back.

MOSQUITO

Accepted by the board was a list of surplus equipment for auction by the former Mosquito Control Commission on May 22.

Rejected was Hancock's approval of Harrison County's selection of specific items for Harrison's purchase and third of property estimate.

Necaise read a report from Mosquito Control, Inc. listing from April 15-23 the company sprayed eight nights, covered 137.9 miles and 5,428 acres. Necaise said the company would send a weekly report to the board.

ROADS

A resolution specifying specific speed limits on five county located state roads was approved by the board as requested by county engineer Larry Seal.

Seal told board members before they could readvertise for resealing and striping of these roads the speed limits must be adjusted as required.

Road and speeds approved were: Caesar-Necaise, 45 miles per hour (mph); Firetower, 40 mph; Flat Top and Lower Bay-Lower Bay Connection, 35 mph each; and Kiln-Picayune, 30 mph.

Also approved were payment of $627 for an easement along Catahoula Creek where a bridge replacement is planned, and advertisement for construction of the Turtleskin

FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

By Governor Kirk Fordice

More patrolmen plus more drug agents equals less crime

As a businessman and conservative by nature, my objectives as governor have been to streamline government and to operate it like a business. In most cases, that has required reducing the number of state employees to an efficient level that will be cost-effective but will not hinder the delivery of services.

While 3,000 employees were added to the state payroll over the last four years, we have already eliminated more than 500 needless state government positions—and counting.

This philosophy has been my management theory in all areas of government—except for one—the area of law enforcement. Law enforcement and narcotics experts have experienced time and time again that where there is an increase in the law enforcement element in a particular community or given area, the crime rate in that community subsequently decreases.

In simple math, that means more law enforcement officers plus more drug agents equals less crime. This math may seem simple enough, but some don't understand this equation and are reluctant to support me in increasing the number of Mississippi Highway Patrolmen and Bureau of Narcotics agents to a formidable level.

As I travel throughout Mississippi, I am constantly reminded of just how important maintaining law and order and protecting life and property are to this state's 2.5 million citizens.

We read every day about crime increasing in all areas of our society; heinous crimes committed against women, children and senior citizens.

How safe are we in our homes, on city streets and state highways? We cannot travel from our homes to our places of employment or to shopping centers, much less from one end of the state to the other, without being threatened by the ever-present criminal element that pervades Mississippi.

Because our state is a coastal port, we are even more likely to be subject to the scourge of drugs and drug trafficking and the crime it brings with it.

As governor, I feel I have a responsibility to the citizens as well as to our many visitors to make sure that those individuals charged with protecting life and property have all the resources necessary to ensure that law and order prevail.

Adequate funding for the Mississippi Highway Patrol will keep troopers from having to work multiple counties alone; will increase DUI/drug enforcement; will decrease fatalities on Highway Patrol-governed roads; will increase trooper visibility; and will provide assistance to motorists.

The last time new officers were commissioned into the Highway Patrol was in 1989 when only 16 troopers took the oath of office. The agency currently has 80 vacancies in law enforcement positions. If these were filled, it could mean one additional trooper in each Mississippi county. We are asking you to support the positions at $20,000 a year.

tage in the agency is further complicated by federal court guidelines which limit the number of hours an officer can work during a 28-day period. The agency has an alarming shortage of manpower in several areas of the state.

It is not uncommon to have one trooper working motor vehicle crashes, enforcing traffic laws and assisting motorists in two to three counties per shift. As we all know, the visibility of a uniformed officer often makes a criminal think twice before committing a crime.

Unfortunately, while officer visibility has been decreasing, deaths resulting from motor vehicle crashes, crime and drug trafficking on state and federal highways have increased.

We have two million licensed drivers in Mississippi and more than 10,000 miles of State and federal highway under the Highway Patrol's jurisdiction. During FY 92, the agency's 489 officers investigated 11,008 motor vehicle crashes; arrested more than 6,700 drivers under the influence of drugs or alcohol and confiscated 412,545 grams of marijuana and 3,570 grams of cocaine.

Unfortunately the only personal experience most Mississippians have with a Mississippi Highway Patrolman is when they are issued a speeding ticket. Little do most Mississippians know that we are protected every day by the valiant service of highway patrolmen and drug agents.

In fact, that very service has claimed the lives of 25 Mississippi Highway patrolmen and drug agents.

It should be apparent that their cause will be in vain if we fail to equip their brothers and sisters in our law enforcement community with the manpower force needed to wage and win our state's war on crime and drugs.

Bourgeois

Creek bridge along Texas Flat Road.

Seals mentioned CSX Transportation recently voiced safety concerns over the Lakeshore Drive railroad crossing, claiming it to be the seventh most dangerous along the Coast.

He said he was unsure as to where financial responsibility fell, but he believed state aid (20 percent) and matching federal railroad protection funds (80 percent) would pay the cost of adding flashing lights.

INTERPRETIVE CENTER
Board members approved use of county equipment and men for the digging of a pond at Hancock High School for the development of an interpretive center.

Bourgeois requested assistance with the pond digging, saying the service would be considered the county's contribution to the project.

Gex said the center would have to be open to Bay-Waveland School District children for the service to be given legally by the county.

Bourgeois said the center would be open to the public, though primarily used by school children in science studies.

The center would encompass the campus' frontage property where a low area presently holds rainfall. Surrounding the pond, a connecting walkway and 16 learning stations would be constructed. Along the front of the senior high complex blueberry bushes will be planted to encourage bird visitation to the area.

She stated the total cost to the district was $1,500, as construction costs for many of the stations were being sponsored by businesses, individuals and as joint school projects.

SAVE OUR CHILDREN
Geraldine Lang, chairman for the Save Our Children project sponsored by Concerned Citizens of Hancock County, requested board assistance with the procurement of a fence to enclose property surrounding the former county welfare building.

Gex said he would look into the legality of the county assisting with the purchase of the fencing.

"We may have a problem," he stated, "for the children who will be using the property will be there under the operation of a non-profit facility, not a public organization."

Lang also asked assistance with the re-organization of storage items belonging to the sheriff's department, county school district and various county offices.

Necaise said he would visit the building this week and review the items and their storage.

Gex said the lease agreement with the Concerned Citizens group would be ready for signature shortly.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business the county approved:

—the purchase of a paper shredder for use by the Department of Human Services for $1,399;

—the purchase of 20,000 send and return envelopes for tax office at $2,420;

—an long-block engine for placement in a 1984 Ford, at $980;

—a purchasing department copy machine maintenance contract for $265 per year;

—monthly credit card expenses for the sheriff's department at $549;

—the purchase of a lawn mower for the ground maintenance crew at $997;

—the purchase of 60 pounds of ice per month for road and bridge crews at a cost of 60 cents per bag of ice;

—acceptance of a $2,000 reimbursement from the Pearl River Basin Development District for recreational equipment;

—bid openings for the construction of the Turtleskin Creek bridge, 10 a.m. June 8;

—payroll from April 16-30; and monthly docket.

The board recessed until May 17.

Veterans exposed to mustard gas may apply for VA benefits

The Department of Veterans Affairs is searching for as many as 4,000 World War II veterans who may have been exposed to mustard gas during classified tests at five sites nationwide during the 1940s.

Although it is not known how many veterans in Mississippi were affected by the tests, many of them, or their survivors, may be eligible for VA benefits based on the long-term health effects of significant exposure to the gas.

Mustard gas testing was conducted to evaluate protective clothing and equipment in anticipation of its use against American forces by enemies during World War II. In some of the tests, subject wore clothing that had been contaminated with mustard gas.

Other tests involved men working on contaminated fields. Because the tests were ordered under oath of secrecy, many veterans remain silent.

"Because the tests no longer are classified, the VA and Department of Defense now can begin locating those veterans and providing the benefits they deserve," said Larry D. Woodard, director of the VA Regional Office in Jackson.

As a result of recent rulings, those veterans are now being encouraged to contact VA to determine their eligibility for benefits based on that chemical exposure a half-century ago.

Based on a VA-funded study conducted by the Institute of Medicine, VA recognizes the following conditions as being linked to significant mustard gas exposure: respiratory cancers (nasopharyngeal, laryngeal, lung (except mesothelioma), skin cancer, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and leukemia (acute nonlymphocytic type resulting from nitrogen mustard).

In addition, the VA had already recognized the following conditions as being associated with mustard gas exposure: Laryngitis, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, asthma, chronic conjunctivitis, chronic keratitis and corneal opacities.

Veterans who were exposed to significant amounts of mustard gas and have health problems that may be related to their exposure should contact the VA Regional Office. Survivors of these veterans also are encouraged to contact the Department of Veterans Affairs at 1-800-827-1000.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

Always popular, easy to prepare, and relatively inexpensive, chicken is one of my favorite meal choices. And, depending upon its preparation, chicken can be quite low in fat and calories, a factor in healthful eating.

If you add a bit more fat or such in cooking the chicken, you can always have a baked potato for lunch the next day to make up for it! That is, if you don't drown the potato in butter and sour cream.

I spent the better part of the day outdoors on Tuesday, reveling in the glorious sunshine, after all that rain and slush, trying to revitalize some of my plants and shrubs, and to do a bit of transplanting as well, hence I was not in the mood for any time-consuming dinner preparation.

So, I decided upon a sort of "cook-itself," at least to some degree, chicken dish, one of my favorite easy entrees. Here's:

CREOLE STYLE SMOTHERED CHICKEN

1 fryer, cut into serving pieces

Black pepper, cayenne to your taste (I like to use quite a bit; pepper the dish to your taste and tolerance)

1 lb. fresh pork sausage links
3 large onions, chopped
1 large bell (green) pepper, chopped

4 ribs of celery, chopped
2 tsp. garlic powder
2 cups water
1/2 cup chopped green onion tops

1/2 cup chopped parsley

Pepper the chicken parts. Film the bottom of your heavy skillet with a little oil and brown the chicken. (Some cooks like to use more oil, as much as half a cup, but I find that this method works for me. If necessary, I add a little more oil.)

Remove the chicken from the skillet when brown.

Cook the sausage in the skillet, remove this also when browned, and cut into approximately 1/4-inch pieces. Remove most of the oil remaining from the skillet, then add the onion, bell pepper and celery, and cook until the onions are transparent. Add the pork sausage, chicken and garlic powder to the skillet with the onion mixture, and slowly add the water.

Cover, and simmer for 30 or 40 minutes until chicken is tender. Add the green onion tops and parsley just before serving over rice. (4 servings)

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

STICK TO THE FACTS

Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

BE HONEST

Aside from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

SPELL IT OUT

Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

THE BOTTOM LINE

State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

BE THERE

List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

ASK US

If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells, they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!

Bell, Brother John named SSC Star student, teacher

Dr. Michael Ryan, St. Stanislaus principal, announced senior Mangel Bell has been selected Mississippi STAR Student for the 1992-93 school year.

Announcement of the selection of the Star Student was made by the Mississippi Economic Council, sponsor of the STAR Student-Teacher awards program and also sponsor of the Education Celebration.

Star Students are selected from accredited high schools on the basis of academic excellence. Selections are based on American College Test scores and scholastic averages.

Bell selected Brother John Hotstream, SC as the Star Teacher, because in Bell's opinion he "is an exceptional teacher who helps students to look deeply into the depths of life to discover who they really are and where they are going. His insight is astounding, and his determination is commendable."

Bell is presently in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus. He is president of the National Honor Society, president of the Amateur Radio Club, vice-president of Mu Alpha Theta and editor-in-chief of the yearbook.

Bell has achieved the President's Honor Roll award, Academic Excellence awards and Academic Achievement awards. Also he has been recognized as Pepsi Student of the Month and Pepsi Student of the Year. This year Bell is also co-captain of the varsity cheerleading squad.

He has been offered a full-tuition scholarship to Tulane University where he plans to study chemical engineering.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell of Pass Christian.

Brother John has taught English and theology for 35 years as a Brother of the Sacred Heart in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. Additionally, Brother John spent four years teaching in East Africa at Catholic secondary mission schools.

He received his bachelor's of arts degree from Spring Hill in Mobile, his master's in English from Louisiana State University, and completed postgraduate work at the University of Notre Dame.

Brother John has been a moderator of Key Clubs for 18 years and has received Key Club of Honor and is a member of the Key Club International. Brother is also a member of the St. Stanislaus Faculty Advisory Council. During the past four summers Brother John has taken St. Stanislaus Key Clubbers to volunteer in the Navajo mission of St. Anne in Klageh, Ariz.

The two will be honored during the Education Celebration portion of the MEC's annual membership meeting on May 11 in Jackson where the Mississippi STAR Student and STAR Teacher for the 1992-93 school year will be announced.

PRC graduation ceremonies May 14

Pearl River Community College's annual spring graduation ceremonies will be Friday, May 14 in the M.R. White Coliseum.

Three separate ceremonies will be held, including the annual pinning ceremony for nursing graduates and separate commencement programs for academic and vocational-technical graduates.

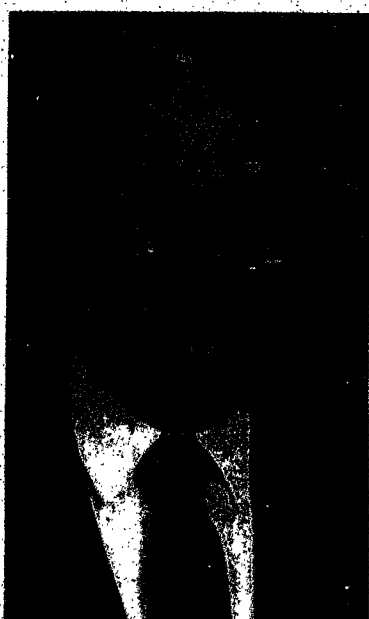

The nursing pinning ceremony will begin at 1:30 p.m. Academic graduation will begin at 3 p.m. Commencement services for vocational-technical students will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Pearl River College began holding separate graduation ceremonies for academic and vo-tech students because of lack of space in the 3,000-seat coliseum.

Last year, a record 584 students received diplomas or certificates of proficiency. The 1992 graduation packed White Coliseum twice for the academic and vo-tech ceremonies.

OLA career day

Women in the work force share information with students

At a recent Career Day at Our Lady Academy, students of all grade levels had the opportunity of gathering information about different careers and professions available for women today.

More than 30 women from the Coast, mothers and alumnae included, were invited to the OLA campus to speak about not only their present professions or occupations, their initial choices and pursuits and preparations (including college courses, number of years and cost), but also the difficulties experienced today as a woman in the work force.

Students had a choice of attending four different career sessions. Each lasted 30 minutes with a ten-minute break between.

The following careers or professions were represented: nurse, anesthesiologist, occupational therapist, physical therapist, speech therapist, pharmacist, social worker, clinical laboratory scientist, physicist, teacher (special education), lawyer, journalist, secretary, banking, certified public accountant, budget analysis, computational science.

Insurance, real estate, environmental engineer, environmental protection agency, physical oceanographer, geology graduate student, interior design, fashion merchandise, travel agent, artist, tennis pro and military (Navy) careers.

Jane Byrne, Weezie Kennedy and Margaret Taylor (parents and school board members) worked with the principal, Sister Donella, to find individuals in different professions and organizing the day.

Students were involved as hostesses and escorts and introduced the speakers for each session.

Kmart offers Miss Teen America pageant entries

The reign of 1994 Miss Teenage America begins in Kmart's ladies fashion department May 1 as contenders pick up official entry forms, the retailer announced. The entry deadline is July 15.

"The Miss Teenage America program emphasizes many of the same American ideals embodied in Kmart's five-year renewal program," said Rick Pellino, divisional vice president of Kmart Fashions.

"Female teens more frequently select Kmart as their source for on-trend, quality fashions, friendly service and the best value for their money," Pellino said. Kmart has been a major corporate sponsor of the Miss Teenage America program for the past nine years.

Teen Magazine operates the program which recognizes outstanding young women between the ages of 12 and 18. Now in its 32nd year, the competition emphasizes scholastic achievement, individual accomplishment, community service, poise, general awareness, appearance and personality. Contenders must have a 3.0 or better grade point average and be enrolled in high school through at least 1994.

Miss Teenage America 1994 will receive a $15,000 college scholarship and a year's worth of clothes from Kmart. ## Russia talk

St. Stanislaus senior and star soccer player Konstantin Koloskov (below) spoke to the third grade at Coast Episcopal Elementary Friday about his home, Russia. The class has worked all year on current events and Russia has been the focal point. Suzy Gachassin teaches the class, and Helen Abel is the current events teacher. Koloskov recently accepted a four-year soccer scholarship to Notre Dame. At left the students listen to Koloskov answer their questions. (Echo staff photos by Liz Haas)

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

There is no parallel to it in all the annals of history, neither in secular nor biblical tradition or literature.

No promise of such a magnitude, depth and transcendence was ever made to any other human being, not even to the holy Mother of God; that is, both made and fulfilled.

We have celebrated his place in history before, but we need to celebrate it often, because his spectacular niche is our indisputable insurance that each of us has one in heaven.

It would be far easier to understand had Jesus promised paradise to his cousin, John the Baptist, to Peter, John or one of the apostles. But to a criminal who was in the process of dying from well-deserved crucifixion?

If boggles the mind that Jesus chose as the recipient of his mercy and generosity a thuggish person who had wasted all his life in violence and crime.

Not only that. It was the eleventh hour of that criminal's life; in fact, the last few minutes of the eleventh hour.

If anything, it would seem to be unfair, even the worst kind of cheating for a never-do-well like this to be saved and, God forbid, to be promised what was never pledged to the holiest of God's saints of any century.

"We have been condemned justly, for the sentence we received corresponds to our crimes, but this man has done nothing criminal . . . Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom" (Lk. 23: 41-42).

Any human being in her/his right mind would eagerly give up any earthly right, treasure, or possession if it meant being addressed by Jesus as that dying criminal was addressed:

"Amen, I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise" (Lk. 23: 41-43).

It can be argued that this is the most powerful scene in the entire Bible. This is not to say that the resurrection of Lazarus, let alone the resurrection of Jesus from the dead, is not the most amazing event imaginable in all of history.

Rather, it would seem that the invitation to the repentant

Lessons from a criminal criminal dying with Jesus is a composite of Christmas, Good Friday, Easter and Pentecost. It is positive assurance that the eternal life promised us will indeed be ours.

The great promise on Calvary is the crowning jewel in a string of encounters by Jesus. It is far and away the most astounding exchange ever between Jesus and a fellow human.

It wraps up the full meaning of Jesus' compassion, mercy, forgiveness and generosity with the woman taken in adultery, with Zacchaeus, with the Samaritan woman at the well, with the incomparable Mary Magdalene.

As to be expected, the great promise on Calvary exposes the most determined and basic bent of the life of Jesus: to seek out and save the little people, the helpless, the weak, the flawed, the vulnerable, the morally bankrupt.

Finally, from the dying, crucified criminal's encounter with Jesus comes the wondrous assurance that it is never too late to turn to Jesus, to ask Jesus for forgiveness, to ask Jesus to take us home with him.

It doesn't matter where we have been, what we have done or what we have failed to do, so long as we call out with faith: "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom!"

OLA classes make retreats

Our Lady Academy students spent time in retreat during the months of March and April. All retreats consisted of talks, discussions, activities and the celebration of the Sacraments of Reconciliation and Holy Eucharist.

Both the senior and junior classes met at the Gulf Shore

The sophomores, freshmen and junior high made retreats at the site of the Gulfside United Methodist Assembly in Waveland.

The retreats of the sophomores, seventh and eighth grades were directed by John Switzer, religious studies

The seniors made an overnight retreat directed by Leo Trahan, principal of Mercy Cross in Biloxi. The retreat centered on their spiritual lives now and in the future.

Father Pete Mockler, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis, celebrated Liturgy. Dee Dee Strong Elkins '87 and her husband Andy led a discussion on the students' personal choice to pray and worship while in college.

The junior class retreat and liturgy was conducted by Father Cuddy Cuthbert, associate pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish in Bay St. Louis. Spending 12 hours together, the juniors concentrated on entry into death and changing their lives in anticipation for death. Joanne Kinney from St. Paul Parish led a discussion on makteacher at OLA, and members of the senior class.

Theme of the sophomores' retreat was "The Our Father." The prayer was broken into various phrases and applied to the lives of teenagers, with the seniors offering personal experiences from their own spiritual lives. Msgr. Ron Herzog, pastor of St. Paul Church in Pass Christian was the celebrant of the Liturgy.

The seventh and eighth grades' theme was "In Search of God: Spirituality." Members of the senior class led them in discussions and activities. Father Francis Theriault, pastor of St. Rose de Lima Parish, celebrated the Liturgy.

The freshman class retreat was directed by Robbie Merrifield of Bay St. Louis and DRE at St. Joseph's in Gulfport on April 22. Presentations centered on the topic of Jesus in the lives of young people. Father Henry McInerney, pastor of Annunciation Parish in Kiln, celebrated the Liturgy.

Other priests involved for the Sacrament of Reconciliation

Also in March, the junior high spent a day at the Gulfside United Methodist Assembly on the topic of sexuality. Susie Lee and Barbara Carter conducted the day's presentations and discussions and distributed literature on a variety of topics. Dr. Dimitry Yanez, gynecologist in Bay St. Louis, shared information from his profession.
